Briotix Joins U.S. Physical Therapy as their Industrial Service Provider

A great opportunity to bring additional capabilities to the markets and clients we serve.

The Briotix senior management team and Board of Directors are pleased to announce that we have reached a partnership agreement with U.S. Physical Therapy, Inc. (NYSE: USPH), a national provider of outpatient physical therapy services. USPH utilizes a long-term partner model and provides us a solution to accomplish our objectives, as well as deliver strategic benefits to both companies.

“For our Team Members, we believe that our partnership with USPH will provide expanded opportunities for growth and development. For our Clients, we look forward to continuing our relationship with them and expanding our capabilities to provide solutions to improve the lives of their workforce and meaningful results to their companies.” Says Stephen Brown, CEO of Briotix.

Our new partnership will provide expanded capabilities of the services we offer such as Post Offer Pre-Employment Testing, often a challenge for clients or prospects when we don't have a Prevention Specialist onsite.

Our growth with new and current clients is a testament to our continued success in the market place. Last year alone we grew by 30% and anticipate similar or faster growth in the foreseeable future. We look forward to this new partnership that will help fund our rapid organic growth and our acquisition strategy.
