Briotix Announces Company Name Change to Briotix Health

Reflecting Commitment to Workplace Health and Wellness

CENTENNIAL, CO – August 17, 2018

Briotix, an industry leader in providing workplace injury prevention solutions and rehabilitation services has announced today that the company will change the company name to Briotix Health, effective immediately. The name change reflects the combining of Briotix and InSite Health and the company's commitment and expertise in driving the innovations needed to shape the future of workplace health and wellness.

This rebranding strategy reflects both the evolution of the company as well as the vision for the future. The name change comes in conjunction with the Briotix' merger with InSite Health, a national industrial sports medicine provider. Along with this change, an updated company logo has been revealed.

CEO, Stephen Brown stated, "Our leadership team and I believe it was appropriate to rebrand our company to more specifically reflect our wide-ranging business objective of impacting employee health through onsite and virtual injury prevention and industrial sports medicine. We are very excited about the introduction of our company name, Briotix Health because it allows us to better represent our services to our clients."
